»» Print

If traditional advertising is what you want, send your message through the pages of Commercial Construction & Renovation magazine and our Commercial Kitchens supplement. Thanks to our growing digital presence, you can get double exposure with our online magazine and digital monthly newsletter.

»» Online:

If it's the online universe that drives your message home, you can take advantage of invaluable web presence, which features daily updates on the trends critical to the commercial construction industry.

»» Events:

You want networking; we have networking. If you're looking to spend a few days building your customer base, check out our annual retreats and industry summit, which put you face-to-face with some of the industry's key decision makers. Or, you could spend a few hours catching up with your colleagues in key parts of the country during one of our Commercial Construction & Renovation People (CCRP) networking events.

»» Retreats

Thanks to our exclusive weekend getaways, our Executive Retreats help forge relationships through high-level roundtable discussions, one-on-one meetings and a series of key networking gatherings (think dinners and cocktail receptions).

If you want to mix and mingle over drinks and hors d'oeuvres, our Commercial Construction & Renovation People (CCRP) events put you in key marketplaces with key decision makers. You even get to walk away with a contact list of everybody in attendance as a sponsor.

And if you're looking for the industry's best networking event, check our 2015 Commercial Construction & Renovation Summit, which strategically puts you in front of end-users, including key retailers, hoteliers, restaurateurs, and hospital and education executives. Pick an event, any event, and our team will help you make your budgeting dollars work.

Our Editorial Mission

Commercial Construction & Renovation helps our subscribers design, build and maintain better commercial facilities by delivering content to meet the information needs of today's high-level executives. Our content spans the design, construction and facilities operations of major commercial construction segments – retail, hospitality, restaurants and other commercial sectors. On the pages of our magazine, you will find information relevant to the collaborative management process required to complete projects on time and on budget, and to efficiently manage these facilities.
